Retains 2 Lke Regime Officials

Gets Reports Of Study Committees

By Marvin L. Arrowsmith
PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy confers today with the new administration's secretary of state, Dean Rusk, on foreign policy problems and organization matters.

FLORIDA CONFERENCE—Gov. Terry Sanford of North Carolina (right) met with President-elect John F. Kennedy at the Kennedy home in Palm Beach, Fla. Here, Kennedy waves to well-wishers across the road.

Rusk flew to Palm Beach Thursday night after indicating in Washington, in testimony to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, that the Kennedy regime plans no immediate sharp departures in dealing with trouble spots around the globe.

Kennedy and Rusk scheduled a morning meeting and a luncheon session at the president-elect's ocean-front home.

Kennedy announced he is retaining two Eisenhower administration officials.

Joseph Charyk will continue to serve as undersecretary of the Air Force.

Thomas D. Morris, now an assistant director of the Budget Bureau, will be assistant secretary of defense for supply and logistics.

The president-elect Thursday night chose Edward Gudemman, Chicago investment banker, to be undersecretary of commerce.

Gudemman, 54, is a former vice president and at present a director of Sears, Roebuck and Co. Last year he became a general partner in the investment banking firm of Lehman Brothers. He is a graduate of Harvard College.

Rusk arrived in Palm Beach a few hours after Kennedy had made public summaries of five study committee reports dealing with the international situation. All the groups were appointed by the president-elect.

Says Bartley Held Her Captive Day Of Slaying

DECATUR, Ill. (AP)—A state witness has testified that Edward Bartley held her captive the day a Decatur saloon keeper was slain, then forced her to drive him the 35 miles to Lincoln so he could elude local authorities.

Mrs. Mildred R. Blythe of Joliet, a former resident of Decatur, testified Thursday at Bartley's murder trial in Macon County Circuit Court. Bartley, a Pekin barber, is accused of slaying Frank Higgins during a holdup of Higgins' saloon on Feb. 22, 1951.

Mrs. Blythe testified she found Bartley and three other men waiting in her apartment the day of the slaying. When night came, she said, Bartley forced her to drive him to Lincoln.

She said the men with Bartley included Aubrey French, 37, of Inkster, Mich., charged with being an accessory to Higgins' murder. He will be tried after the conclusion of the current trial.

Farm Problems—Last In Series

Kennedy Administration's Plans For 'New Frontier'

Editor's Note — President-elect John F. Kennedy has promised vigorous action to increase the farmer's income. How will he go about fulfilling this pledge and what are the major problems facing the farmer? Here's a review of the broad shape of Kennedy's probable attack on problems of the farm and the last in a series of five on policies of the new administration.

By OVID MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration has promised to help farmers attain a higher level of prosperity and to assist city dwellers in coping with mushrooming municipal problems.

Orville L. Freeman, former governor of Minnesota, will take over the Department of Agriculture, with its vast system of field offices and farmer committees, on Jan. 20.

One of his first steps is expected to be assurance to farmers that they can look for better days before the year is out.

Insofar as the cities are concerned, it may take more time to develop a coordinated assistance program to solve complex problems of slum clearance, mass transportation, urban planning, sewage disposal, juvenile delinquency and education. The Democratic platform promised a "folk seat on the president's Cabinet" and Kennedy has endorsed a special report by urban experts calling for creation of a Cabinet-level department for urban affairs.

However, no time schedule was indicated. The post would require approval by Congress.

The attack on the farm problem is expected to have two phases. One would greatly broaden measures to increase consumption of agriculture's super-abundant production both at home and abroad.

The other would tighten government controls on farm production—in cases approved by farmers—to help prevent excessive output. Nevertheless, Kennedy has said that abundant farm production—now represented by huge surplus stocks—would be regarded as a blessing and not as a curse.

The administration is expected to move cautiously in development of its programs. One reason is that much of the Midwestern farm belt voted for Nixon rather than for Kennedy.

Dag To Answer Soviets

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld flew back from Africa today to answer Soviet charges that he helped Belgium organize an attack on pro-Lumumba forces in the Congo from the neighboring U.N. trust territory of Ruanda-Urundi.

After visits to the Congo and South Africa, Hammarskjöld abandoned plans to go on to India and hurried back for the continuation of council debate on the Congo.

The council began debate Thursday on a Soviet complaint that Belgium helped troops of Col. Joseph Mobutu, the Congo army chief, mount an attack from Ruanda-Urundi Jan. 1 against troops holding the Congo's Kivu Province for Mobutu's prisoner, deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba. The Lumumbist rebels repelled the attack.

Diplomatic sources said they expected Ceylon, Liberia and the United Arab Republic to submit a resolution critical of the Belgian action.

They said the resolution would be drawn to attract the largest possible vote and would be milder than the demands Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin made to the council Thursday.

Zorin said the council should condemn Belgium as an aggressor and ask it to withdraw all Belgian military and civilian personnel from the Congo and request the General Assembly to give urgent consideration to (1) depriving Belgium of its trusteeship over Ruanda-Urundi and (2) granting the territory immediate independence.

A Soviet government statement circulated to U.N. members said Belgium and "gangster Mobutu" organized aggression against the Congo from Ruanda-Urundi "with Dag Hammarskjöld's assistance."

None of the committee's Republicans said they intended to oppose Robert Kennedy's appointment or try to obstruct Senate confirmation.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, a committee member, said Republicans plan extensive questioning to compile a record to which they can point if Kennedy later stumbles.

The hearing on Kennedy, probably the most controversial of any of the new Cabinet appointments, was called in advance of official submission of his nomination.

Other Senate hearings were called today on Orville L. Freeman to be secretary of agriculture, Arthur J. Goldberg to be secretary of labor, Abraham A. Ribicoff to be secretary of welfare and Stewart L. Udall to be secretary of the interior.

In addition, the Senate Finance Committee asked Douglas Dillon, Secretary of the treasury-designate, to return for further questioning.

The Foreign Relations Committee completed a hearing Thursday on Dean Rusk to be secretary of state, and the Commerce Committee announced it will have a hearing next Wednesday on Luther H. Hodges, named to be secretary of commerce.

Weger made the statements Nov. 17 and later retreated them. He said he was promised life imprisonment if he cooperated, threatened with the electric chair if he didn't.

Two additional defense motions also were denied as the pre-trial motions were concluded. One would have held Weger's arrest illegal, the other impounded physical evidence assembled by the state.

The murder victims were Mrs. Frances Murphy, 47, Mrs. Lillian Oetting, 50, and Mrs. Mildred Lindquist, 50, all of the Chicago suburb of Riverside.

RUSS MAY FIRE ROCKET ON INAUGURATION DAY
SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—A U.S. space scientist says the Russians may launch a super-space rocket when John F. Kennedy is inaugurated Jan. 20.

Dr. Erich W. Neubert, German-born associate research and development director for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, made the prediction on arrival for a speech.

Neubert said a Soviet fleet has arrived in the Pacific. He pointed out that in the past this has indicated a rocket test was planned.

Katz, Pioneer
Showman, Dies
BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Sam Katz of the old Balaban & Katz Theaters is dead at 69.

The pioneer showman succumbed in his office Wednesday, associates announced Thursday. They did not disclose the cause of death.

Katz was born in Russia. He went to Chicago as a boy, became a movie house piano player at 13 and owned three theaters at 17.

In 1914 he and Barney Balaban formed Amalgamated Theater Corp. Balaban now heads Paramount Pictures Corp.

Katz came to Hollywood in 1925 and worked for several film studios. He had been in semi-retirement since 1956.

WASHINGTON (AP)—An additional $1,341,230,000 in federal and state funds must be appropriated for Illinois before the 41,000-mile interstate superhighway construction is completed, outgoing Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller estimated Thursday.

Mueller estimated the total cost of the partially constructed interstate network at $41 billion. His recommendations are subject to congressional approval.

Mueller's estimate, made on a state-by-state basis, will determine the distribution of federal aid funds to each state. The federal government pays 90 per cent, the states 10.

Unemployment Reaches New High In December

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unemployment rose by half a million in December to 4,500,000—highest December total since 1940. Employment declined by 1,173,000 to 66,009,000.

Announcing these figures today, the Labor Department also reported that the rate of unemployment to the total work force rose from 6.3 per cent in November to 6.8 per cent. This is the highest December rate since 1940. The percentages are seasonally adjusted.

Seymour Wolfbein, Labor Department manpower expert, said that the tide total is going up further this winter.

Wolfbein said that if the seasonally adjusted 6.8 per cent rate remains unchanged the unemployed total will increase by one million to 5½ million during January.

On the same basis of assuming only seasonal factors, without continued worsening of factory employment, Wolfbein said that the prospective idle totals will be 5.6 million in February, 5.4 million in March and 4.9 million in April. The spring season generally brings improvement because the warmer weather permits construction and other outdoor work.

An indication how unemployment has mounted since the mid-December date, when the 4.5 million unemployment was recorded, can be seen in unemployment compensation claims.

These increased by 600,000 from Dec. 10 to Dec. 31, and reached a record December total of approximately three million.

December usually brings some decline in employment and increase in about triple the increase that would be regarded as normal for the month. The drop in employment also was extra-seasonal.

For the first time in a year, the employment total was smaller than the corresponding total a year ago.

The number of persons idle for 15 weeks or longer—the long-term unemployed—remained at approximately one million for the third straight month. Nearly half of these workers have been unable to find work for 27 weeks or longer—a half year.

The unemployment rate for married men reached 5.1 per cent in December compared with 3.6 per cent a year earlier, a significant change because of family responsibilities.

B&O Merger With
C&O Awaits Only
ICC Approval

BALTIMORE (AP)—Only approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission is needed to form the nation's second largest railroad network.

A merger of the Baltimore & Ohio and the Chesapeake & Ohio, endorsed by directors of both roads Thursday, would produce a company with 11,000 miles of track and assets of more than $2.3 billion. Only the Pennsylvania is larger or richer.

B&O's endorsement of C&O's stock exchange offer had been in doubt until Thursday. The joint announcement of hopes for a "prompt unification" leaves the C&O operators at the Atlantic Ocean and the Midwest. Its principal lines extend from Hampton Roads, Va., through the coal fields of West Virginia to Chicago and Michigan.

The B&O operates in the same general region, serving 13 states on 5,911 miles of track. Its main lines extend from Philadelphia through Baltimore and Washington to Cumberland, Md., Chicago and St. Louis.

DECLARES AA NOT LOSING MONEY ON
SPRINGFIELD RUN

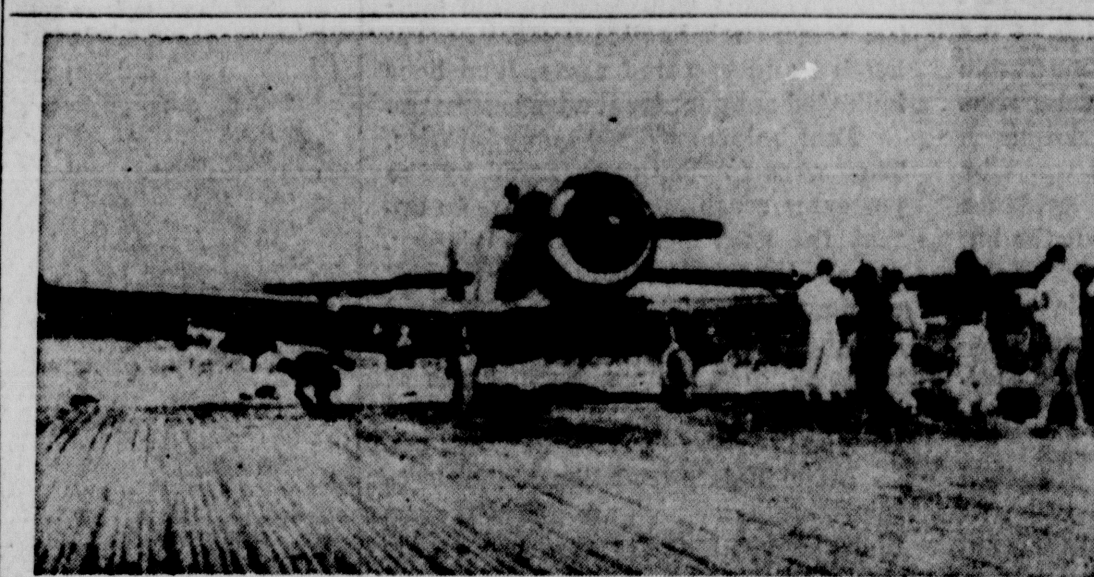

WASHINGTON (AP)—An airline consultant has disputed figures presented by American Airlines to back up its claim that service to Springfield and Peoria, Ill., is unprofitable.

James C. Ray Jr. said Thursday he disagreed with an American estimate showing a loss of $126,777 from serving the cities during the year ended last June 30. He said his figures showed that American would suffer a dip in profits of $239,577 if the flights were discontinued.

J. W. Doolittle, American's attorney, contended that "net" figures for the line's operations at Peoria and Springfield should be considered "net contributions to system overhead and profit" rather than profits from serving the two cities.

The hearing, which began Monday, is scheduled to end today.

Plan Legal Move To Net Negroes Back Into G. U.

MACON, Ga. (AP)—A legal move seeking readmission of two Negro students to the University of Georgia was planned today as the FBI and the Georgia Legislature opened separate investigations into rioting on the university campus.

The students were suspended following an anti-integration demonstration in which stones and firecrackers were thrown and police used tear gas. They were taken from the campus at Athens early Thursday and returned to their homes in Atlanta.

Constance Motley, an attorney for Charlyne A. Hunter, 18, and Hamilton E. Holmes, 19, promptly asked the U.S. District Court in Macon to reverse the suspension.

Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers disclosed in Washington the Justice Department was "initiating a preliminary investigation of reported mob action at the University of Georgia to ascertain whether or not federal law violations occurred."

The Georgia House of Representatives named a special five-man subcommittee to begin hearings in Athens today to check conflicting reports and rumors of riotous happenings at the university.

House Speaker George L. Smith II said in a statement he was confident the subcommittee would "neither whitewash the event nor engage in a witch hunt."

More than half the 600 members of the Georgia faculty Thursday night unanimously adopted a resolution saying, "We insist that the two suspended students be returned to their classes."

The resolution also urged "all measures necessary to the protection of students and faculty and to the preservation of orderly education to be taken by appropriate state authorities."

Fifty student leaders began circulating petitions protesting violence and urging "decisive action" by university officials.

Bring Man To Benton For Quiz
On 1957 Slaying

BENTON, Ill. (AP)—Franklin County authorities are holding a 29-year-old former West Frankfort man for questioning about a 1957 slaying.

He is Bobby L. Piper who was brought to Benton Thursday night from Kankakee where he had been working as a cab driver.

Piper signed a statement saying he believes he may have killed Charles D. Penrod, 55, of Christopher in April 1957, hitting him with a tire iron on an irresistible urge.

Penrod's body was found in the Big Muddy River between West Frankfort and Zeigler on April 19th, 1957. Authorities at the time said he apparently had been robbed after he was fatally beaten.

He last was seen alive when he bought a bus ticket for Hammond, Ind., and told friends he was going there to seek work.

Penrod was believed to have carried $90 and two suitcases. One cent was found on the body and the luggage was not recovered.

Piper called Kankakee County authorities from a tavern and told them his conscience was bothering him.

Kankakee authorities telephoned Franklin County Sheriff Barney Browning and State's Atty. Joseph Hickman and they returned Piper to Benton after taking his statement in Kankakee Thursday.

Laos Pounds Reds Third Straight Day

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The Laotian government's four newly acquired planes from the United States pounded the pro-Communist rebels' artillery positions 70 miles north of Vientiane today for the third straight day.

No reports were available so far on the damage but military experts said the Laotian pilots—trained in France and Thailand—probably would need more of flying to sharpen their aim.

'Untouchables' Shown On TV Despite Warning

NEW YORK (AP)—Ten stations of the American Broadcasting Co. presented the taped TV show "The Untouchables" Thursday night despite a warning from the director of the U.S. Bureau of Prisons.

At the end of the one-hour program came a network announcement that nothing in the show was intended to reflect on the integrity of the bureau.

In a telegram last Monday the bureau's director, James V. Bennett, told the 10 TV stations that his organization would oppose renewal of their broadcasting licenses if they showed the second installment of the two-part program called "The Big Train."

The theme—admittedly fiction—involved an abortive attempt by mobsters to free Al Capone from a transcontinental train transferring him and other prisoners from Atlanta to Alcatraz prison in San Francisco Bay. The show depicted a prison guard as being in cahoots with Capone.

Bennett, after the first installment, asked ABC to withhold the second until he had consulted with the Federal Communications Commission and the U.S. attorney general.

"To picture honorable and courageous officers as venal, and a public institution like the Atlanta Penitentiary as toadying to a character like Capone," said Bennett, "is an unforgivable public disservice."

Omar F. Elder Jr., vice president and general counsel of ABC, wired a reply to Bennett in which he said he doubted anyone would interpret the unfavorable portrayal of one or two guards as "representative of, or cast any general reflection upon, the integrity of other members of that group."

In Santa Fe, N.M., Harold A. Cox, who was an official at Atlanta prison when Capone was moved from there, said he was "highly incensed" by the program.

Cox, now warden of New Mexico Penitentiary, said the program should be labeled as fiction if it was intended as such.

Girl Slain On Way To School

SOUTH HAVEN, Mich. (AP)—Pony-tailed, 15-year-old Geraldine Williams set out for school, but met a brutal death at the hands of an abductor.

The body of the shy, auburn-haired, freckle-faced girl was found late Thursday in the basement of an abandoned farm house. She had been laylaid at a school bus stop Wednesday.

Two state troopers found her body while checking abandoned farm shacks during a search triggered by the finding of her blood-stained lunch sack and books at her bus stop.

Parents called police Wednesday night when they learned Geraldine wasn't at the home of relatives in South Haven and hadn't attended classes that day.

Keeps Ralph Bartlesmeyer As Road Chief

By CHARLES WHALEN
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Gov. Otto Kerner declared today he is flatly opposed to legalizing bingo or other forms of gambling for raising state revenue.

Kerner told a news conference he is "against any form of gambling personally."

It's bad for the economy and as a former Cook County judge, I've seen too many broken homes and unpaid bills as a result of gambling."

On other matters, Kerner said: 1. Ralph Bartlesmeyer of Bashville will remain as chief state highway engineer in the new Democratic administration. Kerner said he has spoken to Bartlesmeyer and he has agreed to stay.

2. He sees no justification for a $20,000 a year state job as tuberculosis control officer, for which Otto Bettag, outgoing State Welfare Department director, is the only applicant.

3. He has not made up his mind whether to seek a penny boost in the state cigarette tax as a budget measure, but believes the one cent increase should be put back on to finance completion of Korean bonus payments.

4. He does not believe the bitter interparty fight for the House speakership, won by Democrat Paul Powell, will impair his legislative program.

On gambling, Kerner said he didn't see how a bill to legalize bingo—which some legislators have indicated they plan to introduce—could be drawn so there wouldn't be a loophole that would let "undesirable people get control."

"A lot of elderly people enjoy bingo," he said. "But I don't see how you could give them their 10 and 25-cent pleasures without opening it up to undesirable elements."

To Propose National Scholarship Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—A national program to provide 25,000 college scholarships annually for needy and worthy students is being recommended to Congress.

The proposal comes from a panel of 20 prominent Americans who met during the past year to discuss possible expansion of the National Defense Education Act of 1958. The Act is scheduled to expire June 30, 1962.

Outgoing Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming who set up the panel of consultants, said the recommendations would be forwarded to Congress. He expressed hope Congress could act on them this session, to insure continuity of the Act's provisions.

The panel included Dr. James B. Conant, president-emeritus of Harvard; James E. Allen Jr., New York State commissioner of education; Alfred M. Gruenther, president of the American National Red Cross, and several college and university presidents and deans.

The panelists pointed out that each year from 160,000 to 200,000 youths of high academic ability fail to go on to college after high school graduation, and that from 60,000 to 100,000 of these might go if they received financial assistance.

Tuition costs and fees have risen about 75 per cent in the last decade, they said, and are likely to increase still further.

The panel suggested an initial appropriation of $25 million, increasing in the next four years to $100 million. This would establish and support at least 25,000 four-year undergraduate scholarships each year.

Bad For Good Sports

Many think it would be a good idea if Americans, who are not generally notable for their physical fitness, did more participating in sports and less watching. Maybe so, but abandonment of spectator sports surely is not the answer.

Almost all nations, including those with good records of fitness, have their spectator sports. It is natural to want to watch the most skilled athletes perform. It is a proper expression of the national life, and lends an inevitable zest and excitement on the lighter side.

If anything should ever kill such sports as a major activity, it won't be television. There's plenty of evidence that good shows still bring out the big crowds, TV or no.

What is threatening public sports exhibitions, however, is the unruly behavior of a crude minority of the fans. This is becoming an increasing problem.

Rowdy elements have disturbed many a big league baseball game by tossing dangerous objects, bursting out and engulfing players, and so on.

Recently a professional basketball game in St. Louis was interrupted by egg-throwing. A visiting coach was struck in the forehead.

Perhaps the worst showing on the 1960 record was in Philadelphia, home of the Eagles, national professional football champions. All season long, ruffians endangered fans by their misbehavior.

Their standard practice was to throw beer bottles, cans, and parts of ripped up wooden stands down upon the spectators in the lower stands—a height roughly equivalent to four stories. When such hooligans were apprehended and escorted away, loud boos indicated support for the transgressors.

Fans below suffered many injuries. They were further endangered by the postgame crush of people eager to uproot the goal posts after a victory. Some callous individuals made a habit of jumping from an eight-foot parapet into the crowd to join the goal post uprooting. More than a dozen cases of broken bones were reported during the season.

Individuals who deliberately act to injure others or who are indifferent to their physical safety are not sports fans. They are merely spoilsports.

If they keep on in this vein, the real fan may indeed refuse to watch a sport any place but in the safety of his living room.

Rolling Out the 'Red' Carpet

★ EDSON IN WASHINGTON ★

Speculation Awaits Ike's State of Union Message

By PETER EDSON
Written For NEA
WASHINGTON (NEA)—President Eisenhower's last State of the Union message to Congress on January 12 could mean different things to different people.

If it is in the tradition or spirit of Washington's farewell address it can be taken as a lasting document setting domestic and foreign policy objectives for years to come. If the message is taken as a political document—an appeal to Republicans and those "Eisenhower Democrats" who supported his every word and deed almost unquestioningly for the last eight years—it will be a statement of conservative principles that will provide guidelines for 1964 and 1968.

But if the president's message is considered a mere review of his two administrations and a defense of his policies—as was indicated beforehand—it will be something for the incoming Kennedy administration to challenge.
There was no criticism of Eisenhower personally during the last election campaign. But there is no gainsaying now that neither the foreign nor domestic affairs of the country are being turned over in perfect condition.

President Eisenhower and a Republican Congress were elected in 1952 on campaign slogans of "Clean up the Mess in Washington," "Peace and Prosperity" and "Ending the Korean War."
The last promise was kept promptly. But the peace that has been maintained in the last eight years has been an uneasy, cold war peace at best. The cease-fire in Korea is continued by an armed truce—not a secure peace.

The fighting that was ended by the partition of Viet Nam is now breaking out again in neighboring Laos. Sporadic shelling continues on Quemoy and Matsu, following the unleashing of Chiang Kai-shek in Formosa Strait, and that has become a domestic American political issue.

In the Near East, war in the Suez was averted by the skin of our teeth. Lebanon and Jordan were saved from being gobbled up by Nasser's United Arab Republic. But the friendly government of Iraq was overthrown.
Relations with Russia got no better in spite of extended cultural exchanges and crashed in a tailspin caused by the U-2 incident. The United States was second in launching missiles into orbit and in despatching for the moon.

U. S. leadership in the U. N. was seriously challenged. Exploding demands for freedom and independence in Africa caught the United States unprepared to deal with them effectively. And so a new cold war front was launched.
The administration that took over with a pledge to stop neglecting Latin America leaves office with conditions no better. Dictators like Peron in Argentina and Perez-Jimenez in Venezuela have been replaced by their own people. A Communist government in Guatemala has been replaced by a more democratic government.

THOUGHTS

On that day the Lord their God will save them for they are the flock of his people; for like the jewels of a crown they shall shine on his land.—Zechariah 9:16.

What no eyes have seen, what no ears have heard—that is the eternal happiness which I expect when I have laid aside my human body.—Karl P. P. von Martius.

But liberal President Lennus in El Salvador has been replaced by a military junta. Pro-U.S. dictator Batista in Cuba has been replaced by pro-Communist dictator Castro, with whose regime diplomatic relations have been broken—a break for the new administration to mend.

The old "mess" in Washington was cleaned up, only to be succeeded by other scandals. Prosperity has been maintained to the extent that the federal budget this year should be balanced again and that the threat of ruinous inflation has been averted, though the cost of living is no lower. The dollar gap is troublesome, but the dollar itself is sound.

What the Kennedy Administration makes of all this will be revealed when the president-elect delivers his own inaugural message after he is sworn in.
But there is every prospect that the two messages will be so different there will be some difficulty in recognizing that they speak of the same country.

Aviators usually stand a nerve test before going up very high. Landlords don't need one.

A blotter is what people look for while the ink is drying.
Maybe the most efficient chaparral is the need of a shave.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:
We have a neighbor whose 9-year-old boy makes trouble whenever he comes over. Our boy, Stanley, is 7 and fairly obedient until Eddie is around. Then he goes wild and so rough I can't make him mind. This week Eddie broke the wheel of my shopping cart though I've told him time and again not to play with it. He's such a bad example for Stanley. Should I ask his mother to tell him he has to be more obedient when he's at our house?

ANSWER: It should have been simple to say to Eddie: "Go home now. And don't come over again until you can believe I mean what I say."
Why wasn't it simple? Why do you want Eddie's mother to protect you against his aggressiveness?
The answers to these questions might prove helpful. Eddie's aggressiveness may not be the problem so much as your inexperience in resisting it generally. If this is true, we want to know it.

We want to know if you've always felt selfish and mean when you've asked for some advantage for yourself. We may need to see that the situation involving you with Eddie is not special but one of many experiences with other people's impositions.

We need to start wondering if you've always felt uneasy when you had to refuse someone a favor, if you're frightened of displeasing or hurting people, if you find it difficult to forget a critical remark.

We don't solve problems like this one with Eddie by getting someone to tell us what to do about it. All such "do" advice does is to put into our mouths words which don't belong to us while they leave untouched the fear of displeasing which DOES belong to us. The "do" adviser gives us a temporary answer—but the very next time we are pushed by imposition, the untouched fear will render us as helpless as before.

So, let's not content ourselves with parroting the words I've suggested be said to Eddie. Let's try to appreciate their honesty, too. Let's see that they dispense with pride in kindness and tolerance to openly declare what we want, regardless of whether it pleases or not.
Speak them with respect for their honesty—and you may be able to use them again for the next imposer instead of asking me what to do about him.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Tony Perkins may have flipped his wig in "Psycho," but he's finding that the sensational film is therapeutic for his psyche.

It's like this, doctor. You see, he and the movies weren't meant for each other. He suffered a trauma whenever a film of his failed to light up the box office, which happened distressingly often.

Oh, he had his periods of elation when a film would do well, but then the flop neurosis would recur. The runaway hit of "Psycho" wiped out his problem and now he even has a healthy Oscar syndrome.

But let him take the couch and tell his own case history:
"It was true; I actually felt guilt-ridden. I thought that maybe I was kidding myself, that maybe the movies just weren't my medium."

"That's why it's so great to be associated with something that is headed for an $18-million gross. It is the most-seen black-and-white picture of all time; only the big color epics surpass it."
"Naturally the credit goes to Alfred Hitchcock. But I think the cast contributed to its success, too. I think 'Psycho' with unknowns would have been a good hit, but I don't think it would have been the smash that it is."

Perkins is now so boyishly confident that he predicts an academy nomination for himself.
Win or lose, Perkins feels a new buoyancy in his career. He just finished a film with Ingrid Bergman and Yves Montand in France and is picking and choosing for his next one. He said Hitchcock is looking for another one they can do together, though not necessarily "Psycho Strikes Back."

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—President-elect Kennedy is going through Adlai Stevenson's law firm like a vacuum cleaner.
He has already picked three members of the firm—including Stevenson—for top jobs in his administration. It is expected to name another shortly and gave two key posts to former Stevenson law associates.

All were long-time friends of Stevenson and his backers for the Democratic presidential nomination. But when Kennedy got it this year, they worked for him. And all know him personally, too.

It could be assumed Kennedy was paying off a political debt to them and Stevenson for the help they gave him this year or for acknowledging his debt to the liberal view they represent and represented in the campaign.

But this writer contacted a number of people who know all the men given these choice assignments and they prefer to think Kennedy did his picking because these friends of Stevenson are brainy, distinguished men.

These are the three members of the firm already tapped: Stevenson as ambassador to the United Nations; Newton W. Minow, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission; and W. Willard Wirtz, undersecretary of labor.

Kennedy shortly is expected to name another member of the Stevenson Chicago law office—William Blair—as an ambassador. Blair, rich in his own right and able to pay an ambassador's bills, is a long-time Kennedy family friend.

Kennedy chose George W. Ball, associated with Stevenson in a Chicago law firm back in the early 1940s, as undersecretary of state for economic affairs.

Another former law associate, J. Edward Day of Los Angeles, was picked as postmaster general. Day, now an insurance executive, was in the Stevenson law firm in 1945-49.

Minow 34, served as law clerk for the then Chief Justice Fred Vinson and was administrative assistant to Stevenson when the latter was governor of Illinois more than eight years ago.

Wirtz, 46, has a long experience in the labor field and has known the man who will be his new boss, Arthur Goldberg, secretary of labor, a long time. It's Goldberg who may have done the actual picking of Wirtz.

Besides being a professor of law at Northwestern University, Wirtz is also an arbitrator and mediator. During the war he served on various government bodies. Like many others called to Washington, Wirtz went to Harvard—the law school.

Ball at 51 has an international law practice, has crossed the Atlantic perhaps more times than he can remember, and is member of a law firm which has offices in Washington, New York, Paris and Brussels.

Back in the New Deal days of President Roosevelt, Ball worked in the Agriculture and Treasury departments and, during the war, in the Lend-Lease Administration. Blair, better known to newsmen than any of the others, was a constant companion of Stevenson in his presidential bids and traveled abroad with him.

Duodenal Ulcer Operation Many Times Unsatisfactory

By Harold Thomas Hyman, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

From a desperately unhappy housewife of West Palm Beach, Fla., comes the following:

"My husband and I have not been able to get along together for the past five years. Because we have three lovely children we have tried to keep together until they are old enough to go off to school or college. But it's just no use and I'm convinced it would be better all around if my husband and I got a divorce since the atmosphere in our home is terrible."

"The children don't know which way to turn. They go out as much as they can. And when they're home, they're afraid to say a word for fear of hurting the feelings of the mother or their father."

"But here's the difficulty. My husband has a duodenal ulcer. And every time I mention separation or divorce to him, his ulcer kicks up and I have to put him back on his diet and his powders. Don't you think it would be better for him to have the operation and get it over once and for all rather than keep on like this?"

Whoa, dear "housewife." Better hold everything until you've thought your problem through. First of all, do you think there's a possibility that there may be some causal relationship between your marital difficulties and your husband's ulcer flare-ups? This consideration is not intended to place blame or take sides. It does raise the important question as to a possible relationship between an organic disease (soma) and an emotional trigger (psychosomatic illness). For, if this possibility exists, removing the ulcer is tackling the problem at the wrong end. Its almost like amputating the foot to get relief from the pain of a bunion.

Secondly, you are misinformed if you think the operation is curative in all instances. Here are some facts about surgery for the patient with duodenal ulcer:

● The immediate postoperative mortality is 3.8 per cent under best auspices. And probably higher nationwide.

● In a ten-year follow-up study, Dr. Kieffer of Boston's Lahey Clinic reported 13.4 per cent ulcer recurrences, a weight reduction of more than 10 pounds in 34 per cent, unpleasant postoperative distress in 14 per cent, and inability to resume the usual occupation in 10 per cent.

● And in confirmation of the Kieffer findings, Dr. Harold Harvey of New York's Presbyterian Hospital reports an "incidence of 15 per cent."

Other nations look to the United States for atomic leadership. In the absence of American leadership, we must expect more dispatches, like those from Tel Aviv and Paris, telling of joint atomic projects of which we are not part. Perhaps they will be peaceful, perhaps not.

He who has accepted the weight of leadership cannot take refuge in rest.

Far from asking too many questions, most adults don't ask enough. We don't ask enough questions when we are buying, when we are making plans and arrangements, when we are accepting responsibilities, and when we are making important decisions.

And when plans don't turn out as we anticipated, when things aren't what we expected them to be, when what we thought was a sound decision turns out to be a poor one, when we get stuck with a purchase that isn't exactly what we wanted, we say helplessly, "I just assumed..."

And we feel cheated or put upon or stupid, depending on the situation, simply because we assumed too much.

Sometimes we don't ask questions because we don't take the trouble to figure out just what questions we should ask.

Sometimes we hesitate to ask questions because we don't want to appear naive or ignorant.

But whatever the reason for our not finding out what we need to know we usually excuse our negligence with that perfect alibi, "I just assumed..."

Once in a while we are honest enough with ourselves and others to qualify "I just assumed..." with "I guess I shouldn't have..." or "There was no reason why I should have..."

But more often we blame the other person for not making things more clear, more explicit.

And that ends many a friendship, many a business association, many a plan.

When we assume instead of asking questions we can be pretty sure that a good part of the time our assumptions will be wrong.

Fresh Bartlett pears are delicious eating out of hand. But they also combine temptingly with other fruits and cheese. You'll enjoy these combinations:

Fresh Pear and Apple Betty
(Yield: 6 to 8 servings)
2 cups soft wholewheat or white bread crumbs
1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted
1/4 cup sugar

3 cups tart sliced apples
3 cups sliced firm Bartlett pears
1/4 cup boiling water
Whipped cream for garnish (optional)

Combine crumbs and butter or margarine. Add sugar, nutmeg and lemon rind. Sprinkle one-third of the crumbs in the bottom of a greased 1 1/2-quart baking dish over which place apples. Cover with 1/2 of the remaining crumb mixture. Then, top with sliced pears. Sprinkle with the rest of the crumbs. Cover and bake in a preheated moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 30 minutes. Uncover and bake 20 minutes longer or until fruit is tender and crumbs are brown. If desired, top with whipped cream.

Cheese Stuffed Fresh Pear Salad
(Yield: 6 servings)
6 large ripe fresh Bartlett pears
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
2 packages cream cheese, 3 ounces each
1/4 cup crumbled Roquefort or Bleu cheese
2 tablespoons milk
Salad greens
Wash pears, cut in half and remove coars. Brush cut sides with lemon juice. Combine cream cheese, Roquefort or Bleu cheese and milk. Mix well. Pack the mixture into pear cavities. Put each two halves together and wrap in foil. Chill several hours or overnight. Just before serving, cut into quarters and place on lettuce or other salad greens. Serve with French dressing.

Methodist Men Hear John Rider At Winchester

WINCHESTER—A committee composed of Richard and Robert Coultas, Carl Woodcock, Everett Howell and Everett Dunham served a rabbit supper to the men of the Winchester Methodist Church in Sibley Hall on Wednesday evening.

The business meeting following dinner was presided over by the president, Robert Coultas. It was decided to attend the sub-district meeting of Methodist men held in Carrollton on Feb. 9 in lieu of the regular monthly meeting on Feb. 8. Plans were formulated and tickets passed out for sale for the pancake and sausage supper to be served by the men on Thursday, Jan. 26. Tickets are on sale at $1.00 for adults and 50c for children.

The program for the evening was presented by John Rider of MacMurray College on "Business Integrity," which, he stated, since everyone was engaged in business or work of some kind should be applied to all. The speaker mentioned some of the dishonest and immoral practices of business firms and individuals which he stated was endangering the continuity of Christianity and the responsibility of each person for these practices.

Kiwians Hear Speaker
Guest speaker at the regular Kiwanis Club meeting in Winchester this week was Arthur Yates, of Jacksonville, assistant superintendent at the Illinois School for the Deaf, Mr. Yates was introduced by the program chairman, Richard Lashmet, following the 6:15 o'clock dinner at the Hotel Winchester.

The speaker told his audience of some of the teaching difficulties that teachers have in teaching deaf children. He stated that when a normal child starts to school his vocabulary, is from three to six thousand words, while a deaf child has no vocabulary, having heard no words spoken. He told of the ways the deaf child is taught vowels, consonants, etc. stating that their education commences with age 4½ in kindergarten, four years are then spent in the primary departments and five years in intermediate work so that when they graduate from high school it is actually the equivalent of the ninth grade in a regular school.

Sam Peak is program chairman for next week's meeting to be held on Jan. 17.

Read the WANT ADS!

When Christopher Columbus began his probe of an unknown ocean there were many who predicted he would soon reach the edge of the world... and fall off into nothingness.

Today we are probing that nothingness. The edge of the world is everywhere; and man eagerly reaches for whirling worlds that pioneers yet unborn may colonize.

As we explore the vastness of God's creation we realize with greater awe
His might and majesty. But greater, we know, is our need for understanding
His Will, and His Love for man.

For man can take to his new worlds tomorrow only the Truth and Faith and Life he discovers in this world today.

Therefore, while a few gifted scientists are building highways from the edge of the earth, the Church is offering everyone opportunity to probe the spiritual depths which shall determine our destiny.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL - ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Final plans were made for the 4-H leaders recognition dinner scheduled for Wednesday evening. The board also discussed the Soil Conservation banquet which the women will serve on Monday, Jan. 23. A committee composed of Mrs.

Miss Dixon, county treasurer, and all unit treasurers, will handle details of the dinner.

Moving To Jerseyville—Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Beatty and family, who will leave Hardin soon to make their home in Jerseyville, were guests of honor Monday night at a potluck supper given by the congregation of the First Presbyterian church, of which they are members.

A large crowd attended the 6:30 p.m. meal in the church basement. A gift was presented to the family from the congregation members, during the evening. The Beattys are natives of Calhoun county, and have long been active in the civic, church and social life of Hardin and the surrounding area. They are making this move to be near Mr. Beatty's work.

Gilead Unit To Meet—The Gilead Home Bureau unit will meet Friday at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Oliver Simon. The major lesson, "Home Preparedness in Emergencies," will be given by Mrs. Peter W. Simon, home adviser, and the minor lesson, "Hobbies for Homemakers," will be presented by Mrs. Olga Dixon.

COLUMBUS' LANDING—Recent research indicates that Christopher Columbus made his first landing on Calcasieu Island, which lies south of Watlings Island formerly considered to be the site of his landing but still a matter of dispute. Watlings was named San Salvador Island by Columbus.

Kentucky has the largest number of active bituminous coal mines of any state in the Union.

Youth Arrested For Burglary Of Westlake Club

JERSEYVILLE—Burglars broke into the Westlake Country Club during the early hours of Sunday morning. A seventeen year old youth was picked up by local police and held for questioning.

Sunday afternoon a complaint charging the youth with burglary was filed before Justice A. Thatcher and the defendant was arraigned late Sunday afternoon. Bond for appearance January 18th at 11 a.m. was fixed in the sum of two thousand dollars and in default of bail the youth was remanded to the county jail.

Monday afternoon he was released on bond of two thousand dollars for appearance January 18th at eleven a.m.

Police were reported to be searching for two other suspects believed to have participated in the clubhouse break in, but no additional arrests had been made in the matter up to Monday evening.

Residents of the Westlake Club House vicinity observed a car with three youths in it cruising in the vicinity of the clubhouse a number of hours before the break in. The activities of the trio aroused suspicion and a description of the trio and their car was obtained.

Baptist Mission Circle Meets At Roodhouse

ROODHOUSE—The evening mission circle of the First Baptist church met at the home of Mrs. Darrell Ash, Thursday night, with the president, Mrs. Wayne Elliott, presiding over the business session. Mrs. William Admire gave the devotionals and used as her topic, "What We Should Know About Missions."

The remainder of the evening was spent making cancer dressings. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Help With Corn Picking—Fain Nicholson, Oak Grove vicinity, received unexpected help with his corn picking when 14 neighbors gathered at his farm home Thursday with tractors, corn pickers, wagons and trucks. The men picked and cribbed the rest of his corn crop which amounted to about 12 acres.

Participating were the following men: Gene Coffman, Clarence Akers, Eugene Lemon, Carl Kemp, Archie Walls, Ivan Dawdy, Paul Roady, Clarence Paxton, Noble Clark, Paul Cox, Kenneth Painter, Donald Smith, Billy Boston, and the Rev. Dan Vittoe.

A "pride" of lions may consist of as many as 60 of these animals.

Catholics, Protestants To Pray For Unity

By JULES LOH
NEW YORK (AP)—Protestants and Catholics throughout the world next week will kneel together and pray separately.

They will be praying for unity—though with different ideas of the form it should take—in dual observances of a devotion as unique in origin as it is in practice, and one which goes far beyond any current endeavor of the popular ecumenical movement.

Unlike most current ecumenical efforts being carried out by learned church leaders on a lofty theological plane, this is an annual assault on religious differences by simple people on their knees.

Catholics call it the "Chair of Unity Octave," the World Council of Churches calls it the "Week of Prayer for Christian Unity." It will be observed Jan. 18-25.

Can persons pray together from opposing positions?

The question itself, says Dr.

Keith Bridson, secretary of the World Council's Faith and Order Commission, helps participants "to sense the naked scandal of Christian disunity."

He feels the observance at least brings the churches together to face their differences, and "this is one of the most creative things it can accomplish."

There is no mistake, however, about the route the founder of the observance had in mind for his prayer movement.

His name was Lewis Thomas Watson, a deeply religious man and an eloquent speaker who graduated from the General Theological Seminary in New York in 1885 and assumed the name Father Paul James Francis.

From his earliest days in the ministry he dreamed of establishing an order of Anglican friars dedicated to the apostolate of unity.

This he did in 1898, in the monastic quiet of Graymoor, near Garrison, N.Y., across the Hudson River from West Point.

Father Paul called his new religious order the Society of the Atonement. He explained he chose the word not in its usual sense of expiation, but because of its literal, though archaic, connotation of at-one-ment, reunion. He and his 16 followers, including a small group of Anglican nuns, by this time were convinced they should be Roman Catholics.

For 11 years, however, they refused to desert their faith individually. Instead they worked toward corporate reunion with Rome of the entire Anglican Church. In their zeal, they considered such a goal attainable.

Finally in 1909—a year after his first conducted their first octave of prayer for unity—Father Paul turned for advice to his Anglican superior, the Rt. Rev. Frederick J. Kinsman, bishop of Delaware.

"Either give up belief in a divinely established papacy and in Roman dogmas," advised the bishop, "or else give up Anglican orders—and be a good Roman Catholic. I have no hesitation in saying that if I were in your position I should choose the latter alternative."

Before the year was out the Society of the Atonement became the first non-Catholic religious community ever received as a group into the church of Rome.

Father Paul was ordained a Catholic priest eight months later, and in the years that followed he watched his society grow into a sizeable religious order with more than a dozen houses in North America.

Its goal of Christian unity never has changed, and has remained focused on the eight days beginning with the Catholic feast of the Chair of St. Peter in Rome, Jan. 18, and ending on the feast of the conversion of St. Paul, Jan. 25.

How Ya Gonna Keep Them Down On The Farm? —Or Even Keep The Farms?

Problems Grow, Ripen For JFK

By RAY CROMLEY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The farm problems will get worse in the 1960s giving the new Kennedy Administration even greater headaches than those that have faced previous administrations.

This is indicated by conclusions reached at conference between Agriculture Department employees and the nation's farmers plus new forecasts made by the government's top agricultural men.

The unemployment side effects of rising surpluses and increasing technology and research are particularly baffling.

If agricultural specialists are correct, the nation must absorb more than a million wage earners moving off the farms in the next five years. Technology primarily is displacing the unskilled workers on farms. Since industry also needs fewer unskilled laborers, displaced workers will have a tough time finding other jobs.

What then is the farm outlook as the agriculturists see it?

Farmers will face a continuing income squeeze in the next five years. With only average weather needed, annual farm production will continue to exceed demand. Stocks of surplus crops will grow larger.

Boosting exports to the limit, cutting back moderately in farm acreage, increasing domestic consumption won't rid the U.S. of food surpluses. Even heavy population gains expected in the '60s won't offset them. New scientific research rapidly absorbed by farmers in the '60s will boost the yield per acre at a pretty fast clip.

That growing surplus of farm production will keep farmer selling prices down. At the same time, it appears the farmer's costs will continue to go up.

Farms will get larger. Mechanization will increase at a faster clip, the experts predict. These changes will be forced by the need to help keep costs down.

But farm wages are expected to keep rising for those who stay on. Labor will flow away from the farms into other occupations at a quickening pace. Perhaps three-fourths or more of the farm youths will move away as they reach their 16th to 21st birthdays.

Here's why: about a quarter million male farm youths will be looking for gainful employment each year during the next decade, as they grow to maturity. Opportunities for gainful employment as farm operators may average less than 25,000 annually during the 1960s.

In the next six years, the number of people working on farms is expected to decrease 15 per cent, bringing the farm employment down to six per cent of our total labor force. An estimated six million workers will be on farms in 1967, only a little over half the number in 1940.

The number of migratory workers especially may be sharply reduced. There will be a half million fewer farms by 1967. Practically all of this reduction will be made on farms that sell less than $2,500 a year.

The average farm is expected to be 10 per cent larger in 1955. The production assets per farm are expected to average 25 per cent more, exclusive of real estate.

This increase in equipment and mechanization means that more skilled workers will be required on the farms. Output per man hour in 1965, as a result, is expected to hit 30 per cent above 1959, or some two and a half times the 1947-48 level.

THEATER RECORD
NEW YORK (AP)—Tiger Cobb is developing quite a theatrical record.

Recently signed to "Catstick," a melodrama, Tiger accidentally made his stage bow in "Death of a Salesman" by going to sleep on a stage bed, and has since performed in "Bell, Book and Candle," "Diary of Anne Frank" and "Visit to a Small Planet."

Tiger is a tiger tomcat, one of nine foundlings owned by actress Emily Cobb.

NEW YORK (AP)—Allen Swift gets featured billing in the new Broadway show "How to Make a Man"—but never appears on-stage.

Swift, an apt vocal imitator, appears in the play as a newsreel commentator, and does impressions on records of well-known news analysts. For the cast curtain call after performances, his picture is thrown on a screen.

PTA Formally Presents Flags To Ashland Band

ASHLAND—On Monday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the regular PTA meeting, the flags, which were recently purchased by the citizens of the Ashland school district, were presented to the band at the high school building.

Several numbers were presented by the band, under the direction of David Durako. The presentation of the flags was made by their flag project committee.

The speaker for the evening was David E. Elder, research assistant of Illinois Education, and his subject was "Legislation In Education."

A reception was held immediately after the program, and refreshments were served to all by the room parents of the 10th, 11th and 12th rooms as follows, Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Walter John Creed, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bendorf, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ratliff, Mrs. Ethel Christen, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Birch, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Lockard, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Forman and Mr. and Mrs. Ed McDonald.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — While President Eisenhower is reading his final federal budget which he says will be balanced, his Treasury Department is reporting it needs more cash—now.

The reason is that tax collections continue to disappoint. And the reason they do is chiefly that business activity continues to lag behind the Treasury's earlier estimates, even its sharply lower guess last October. The tie between the Treasury's health and that of business is a close one.

And while President-elect John F. Kennedy is preparing his inaugural address which may show what he expects of business activity, his choice for Treasury secretary, Douglas Dillon, is telling senators that slow tax collections may cause a deficit in the fiscal year starting July 1, no matter what the budget offered next Monday may predict.

The Treasury's present plight isn't serious. It is seeking $100 million in new money now — a mere dab in a $41-billion budget and a $90-billion federal debt—although it may seek still more cash in the next few weeks.

And the Treasury expects any cash stringency to disappear after February when collections from income tax returns normally pick up.

The point of the Treasury's current entry into the money market for more cash after it had presumably got itself well fixed for some time ahead is that this puts another dollar and cents emphasis on the extent of the business slowdown — the Treasury still doesn't like to call it a recession.

Last January the Treasury was expecting to have a $4-billion surplus when it closes its fiscal books this coming June 30. It was depending on bigger business profits it could tax. By summer it was obvious that business profits weren't going to be that good, and the Treasury revised its surplus estimate to $1.1-billion. Today many outside the Treasury doubt if there'll be that much of a surplus, if any.

Actually business profits in 1960 are turning out to total just about what they did in 1959. The trouble is that the current federal budget was counting on them to climb well above 1959 and furnish enough in taxes to meet the higher spending in the current fiscal year and leave some over to apply on the federal debt.

They didn't, the surplus prospect is melting away, and the Treasury is seeking cash when it was thought last October it would be sitting pretty well into spring.

President Eisenhower's budget message Monday is expected to show how much of a surplus, if any, he expects the Treasury to have June 30. And after the new secretary of the Treasury gets settled into office he may revise this estimate.

But the point for businessmen is that when corporate profit margins are pinched as they have been this year—sometimes by declining sales and more often by rising operating costs—it isn't just the stockholder who suffers. The U.S. Treasury gets squeezed right along with him.

All It Takes Is Money

Having A Ball At Inauguration

By JERRY BENNETT

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Living it up at the inauguration of President John F. Kennedy may be as expensive as people as a round-the-world cruise.

Like conventions, vacations and long weekend holidays, the Jan. 18-20 inaugural festivities will be as costly or inexpensive as you want to make them. But to do it up in high style, according to Capital socialites, the cost can run as high as $5,000.

This small fortune covers new ball gowns and cocktail dresses for the Mrs. and Misses to attend the round of receptions; the ball, concert and parade tickets; a room in a better downtown hotel; food; tips; transportation and miscellaneous expenses.

Fashion designers estimate that the cheapest new inaugural wardrobe will cost about $3,000 each. However, they say that a woman can spend as little as $300 and still be presentable.

Tickets will cost the big spenders nearly $1,500. Whether a person actually shells out this much depends on two things—whether he has that much money and is invited to all the events.

Only tickets for the symphony concert, parade and reception for Vice President and Mrs. Lyndon Johnson will be put on public sale. Events like the Inaugural Ball, Hollywood Gala and Young Democrats reception and dance require either an invitation or application for permission to contribute your money.

Most expensive event is the Gala, a big variety show staged by Frank Sinatra. Box seats for the event cost $1,000 apiece. A whole box of 10 seats costs $10,000. All other tickets sell for $100.

The Inaugural Ball, which will be actually three enormous dances held in different parts of town at the same time, will cost box seats $80 apiece. People who don't mind sitting at ground level can get by for $25. The President and Vice President and their families will attend all three dances.

The young Democrats dance and reception will require an $8 donation to get in the door. The Governors and Distinguished Ladies receptions are free but require invitations. Cocktail parties and receptions will also be held by various state societies.

All is not lost, however, for Democratic enthusiasts who are neither rich nor influential. They can still attend the Vice President's reception for $5, go to the concert for $5-$15 and sit down at the parade on bleacher seats ranging from $3-$25. There will also be free but crowded standing room.

Visitors will find Washington food prices about the same as in any other metropolitan city. Meals here cost as much as $15 for a steak dinner or as little as the regular hot dog stand and cafeteria prices. How much you spend on liquor is strictly up to you.

But the best news for big and little spenders alike is the hotel room situation.

Polly Shackleton, co-chairman of the inaugural housing committee, tee, says that there will be plenty of room for everybody because of last minute cancellations and numerous hotel and motel facilities.

YOU CAN GET CRUSHED for $25 to $80 at the Inaugural Ball as these people did at the fete for President Eisenhower in 1957.

The Washington metropolitan area, which includes nearby Virginia and Maryland counties, has about 130 hotels, 187 motels and 144 guest houses for 56,000 potential guests.

But to prevent people from reserving rooms and then not showing up, the hotels are not taking reservations for less than three days. Many are also requiring a $20 down payment for each of the three days. The average price for a room with twin beds in the larger hotels is about $30.

Mrs. Shackleton explains that her committee will find housing for anyone who requests it. But she says that it won't do you any good to specify a particular hotel. You'll have to take what is available.

One woman who didn't know this wrote the committee asking for a room on the same floor of the hotel where singer Frank Sinatra will be staying.

FRIDAY 13TH
SPOOKS SOUTH

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA

South thought to himself, "If it weren't Friday the 13th I would try for a grand slam; as it is, I am going to bid six no-trump and get in that extra 10 points. We need a good score and this is no time for shilly-shallying."

When the dummy hit the table South rather wished that he had deferred a trifle further to Friday the 13th and settled for a six heart contract. Playing at hearts he could afford to play the ace of hearts first and then try for seven if both opponents followed.

At six no-trump the play of a high heart was a luxury he could not afford. He might wind up going down four tricks.

He led his three of hearts. West produced the deuce. South was just about to call for the jack from dummy when he suddenly reminded himself that it was Friday the 13th and that maybe West would have all four hearts.

South called for dummy's nine and sure enough East showed out.

Now it was simple matter for South to come back to his hand; finesse the jack of hearts and make seven no-trump for what turned out to be a real top score. It seems that the field had either gone down at no-trump or made exactly six hearts.

★ GRAYSON'S SCOREBOARD ★

By HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Things happen so rapidly in the nomadic baseball life of Frank Lane that it's hard to keep up with them.

Trader Lane has been general manager of four major league clubs in 10 years, which is par for the course.

Prattie Frankie talks himself in and then talks and trades himself out, but the fact remains that this extraordinary opportunist has done the job he was asked to do everywhere he has appeared. That's why the one-time football and basketball official always obtains a better deal in new territory. And they're pippins—$50,000 and a bonus of five cents per admission after home attendance in Cleveland reached 800,000.

The volatile Lane, who believes his 63 years by the way he gets around, rehabilitated two outfits—the White Sox and Indians—and improved a third—the Cardinals—in the standings. The Athletics are in such poor shape that he hardly can make a mistake in Kansas City, where there never will be a dull moment while he's around.

There never was an abler hand at building from scratch. He's a carbon copy of Larry MacPhail, who introduced him to baseball in Columbus, Ohio, in that respect. Again like MacPhail, Lane lacks staying qualities. He doesn't wear well.

Young Chuck Comiskey grew tired of remaining in the background while Lane continued to make him money, which is why The Swapper took off for St. Louis. Lane requires a tremendous field in which to roam, the lack of which could have been his main difficulty in St. Louis.

Lane would much prefer to trade players, preferably established stars, than win a pennant, something he has never done.

The definite break in St. Louis came when he moved to swap the great Stanley Musial to Philadelphia for Robin Roberts. Musial, as much a part of St. Louis as the Mississippi River, got wind of it. Stan the Man told Gusie Busch he would call it a baseball career before making any switch.

The Cleveland owners tell you that it was a relief to get rid of Lane and the two fat years that remained on his fat contract.

The White Sox winning strictly on defense in 1959 seemed to convince Lane that the Indians were not nearly slick enough in the field. So he traded away Rocky Colavito and Minnie Minoso, power and run-batted-in men. The result was disastrous. The attendance he had regained fell away off.

There are a thousand stories about Lane, but unquestionably the most unusual aspect about his transfer to Kansas City is that he again is riding shotgun with Joe Gordon, whom he twice fired in Cleveland, the second time trading his manager for Jimmy Dykes.

One thing is for sure. This is that Lane going to Kansas City definitely kills the affinity which has existed between the Yankees and Athletics since the late Arnold Johnson transplanted the Philadelphia franchise to the cow capital. Lane was the number one Yankee hater, and the suspicion is that GM George Weiss felt he was a little too slick to trade with.

Weiss is gone now and so is Casey Stengel, whom Lane used to needle by calling the professor a push button manager. Lane will miss his feuding with Weiss and Stengel, for Ol' Case didn't even silence him when he remarked: "You've made 300 deals and are still looking for a third baseman."

Frank Lane immediately made a deal for a third baseman. It didn't work out, but that's the kind of guy The Swapper is. Always trying.

Barber 1 Stroke Off San Diego Pace With A 67

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Eric Mondt of Los Angeles knocked five strokes off par for a 66 Thursday and led the way through the first round of the $20,000 San Diego Open.

The 41-year-old teaching professional, who plays relatively little tournament golf, found the sunny weather and the Mission Valley Country Club course to his liking. He led off with a 35-foot putt for a birdie-three on the first hole and went on to cover the par 35-36-71, 67-25-yard course in 32-34.

It gave Mondt a slim one-stroke lead.

Tied at 67 were Gary Player, who missed a $10,000 hole-in-one jackpot by the margin of 10 inches; Jerry Barber of Los Angeles and Marty Furgol, 1959 San Diego Open winner from Coghlin, Ill.

Player, from South Africa, and Furgol toured the course in 31-36 and Barber did it in 34-33.

Tied at 68 were Bob Goalby, winner of the $45,000 Los Angeles Open last Monday; Lionel Hebert, Don January, Darrell Hickock, Bo Winger and Frank Boynton, Winger and Boynton came in just before dark.

Twenty-nine professionals in the field of 150 broke par.

Arnold Palmer, who blew up in the Los Angeles Open and failed to qualify for the final two rounds, got back on his game here with a 34-35 and a tie with eight others at 69.

Banks hit 41 home runs last season to lead both leagues and finished with a .271 average. He drove in 117 runs. It marked the fourth successive season in which Banks has hit 40 or more home runs.

Banks, who will go 30 last this month, will start the 1961 season with a string of 654 consecutive games, longest current streak in the majors.

Banks' top home run output was in 1958 when he hit 47. He also led the league with 129 runs batted in. In 1959 he hit 46 home runs and again led the league in runs batted in with 143.

He broke in with the Cubs in September of 1953, playing the final 10 games of the season. He didn't miss a game until August of 1956 when he was sidelined with an injury. He played the last 35 games of the 1956 season and hasn't missed another game as a Cub.

Burgess Of Gonzaga Is Nation's Major College Cage Leader

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Burgess of Gonzaga, who lifted his average to 31.4 points, is the nation's major-college basketball scoring leader for the fourth straight week, the latest NCAA Service Bureau statistics showed Thursday.

Burgess scored 32 points in a losing game against Washington State last Thursday, giving him 408 points in 13 games. Tom Chilton of East Tennessee State is second with a 30.3 average on 303 points in 10 outings. He is followed by Tom Stith of St. Bonaventure.

29.5, Terry Dischinger of Purdue 28.4, Bill McGill of Utah 27.3 and All-America Jerry Lucas of Ohio State 26.3. The records include 21 games of Tuesday, Jan. 10.

St. Bonaventure's 103-71 triumph over Gannon enabled the Update New York team to regain the team offense lead from Memphis State. The once-beaten Bonnies are averaging exactly 90 points a game. Memphis State is the runner-up with 89.7. Then come Ohio State, top-ranked in the Associated Press poll, 87.6 and West Virginia 86.1. The Mountaineers leaped from 15th to fourth place.

St. Bonaventure also is the top club in field goal accuracy with a .507 mark and Ohio State has the best percentage from the free throw line, .781. Bradley's Braves are the rebound leaders having controlled 61.9 per cent of the rebounds in their games.

Santa Clara is the defense pacesetter, having yielded only 655 points in 14 games for a 46.8 average. San Jose State is next with 49.1.

Lucas, the Buckeyes' big gun, is the individual leader in field goal marksmanship with a .619 percentage and in rebounds with 207. Pete Chudy of Syracuse heads the free throw list with 932 on 30 conversions in 32 tries.

manager, "head coach," or whatever title the 1961 Cub leader may carry.

"I've had too many turns at ready," Grimm said. He conceded, however, that he would do whatever Wrigley adjudged best for the Cubs.

Grimm first was Cub manager in 1932, continuing through 1937. He also was the top Cub man from 1945 through 1948. After the 1959 season, Grimm succeeded Bob Scheffing and was manager until last May 5 when he was replaced by Lou Boudreau.

On the Cub coaching staff now with Grimm and Walker, are Rip Collins, Harry Craft, Vede Himsel, Goldie Holt and Elvin Tappe. Collins and Holt recently were hired, the others being holdovers from 1960.

There was no indication when the eighth coach will be named. The Cubs will not appoint managers for their minor league affiliates at San Antonio of the Texas League and Venatchee of the Northwest League. Instead, "roving coaches" from the Cub's eight-man staff will fill the jobs for approximate one-month periods.

Richie Ashburn, outfielder and club player representative, will become Cub "ex-officio" member of the management team. This will mean that Ashburn can carry any player complaint to the Cub coaching staff without waiting for the usual All-Star game period for airing player grievances.

Walker, as new Cub coach, joins Tappe as a second coaching coach. Walker, 31, is the younger brother of catcher Al (Rube) Walker, who played for the Cubs and Dodgers. He broke in with the Cub organization as a catcher in 1948 and since 1956 has been a Cub minor league manager.

In the midst of the interviewing concerning the Cub's unique front office plans for 1961, Wrigley posed for photographers with this motto he keeps on his desk:

"Anyone who remains calm in the midst of all this confusion, simply does not understand the situation."

Earlier Thursday, Kerbaw denied emphatically that he was participating in any way or that he had any interest in the struggle for control of the Lions.

There has been announced opposition to President - General Manager Edwin J. Anderson for more than a year and recently Anderson and 13 other directors favorable to him uncovered a plot to oust them from control of the Lions.

A report published in Detroit said the rebel slate includes Kerbaw as general manager.

ROUTT CONTEST ON WLDS-FM

The Routt-Triopia game at Our Saviour's gymnasium will be carried by WLDS-FM Sports-On-Parade instead of the JHS-MacArthur game as previously announced. The Rocket-Trojan contest had been scheduled for broadcast before the start of the season which brought about the change of programs.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavy trading and a moderately higher average continued in the stock market early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 30 stocks at noon was up .40 at 227.10 with industrials up 1.10, rails off .10 and utilities unchanged.

The churning upward motion—profit taking mingled with reinvestment—resumed a performance which has continued all this week.

Brokers said that, on balance, it reflected a happier outlook toward the economy and the market, based on hopes of a business recovery and of economic measures to be taken by the Kennedy administration.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 2.29 at 630.79. Corporate bonds rose slightly. U.S. government bonds eased. Trading was quiet.

Exporters were understood to have absorbed virtually all the offerings in the old crop wheat contracts at gains of about a cent. The runups in both wheat and soybeans also attracted a fair volume of short covering for the weekend.

Wheat was 1/4-1/2 cents a bushel higher before noon, March $2.09 1/2; corn 1/4-1/2 higher, March $1.11 1/4; oats 1/4-1/2 higher, March $1.15 1/4; rye 1/4-1/2 higher, March $1.15 1/4; soybeans 1/4-1/2 higher, January $2.40 1/4.

Israel To Get Unit To Desalt Seawater Cheaply

CHICAGO (AP)—Fairbanks Whitney Corp. and the Israeli government announced jointly Thursday the successful development of a mass-produced unit to convert seawater into pure water economically.

The process, which has been tested in Beloit, Wis., was described as "the most economical method of desalting known to date."

The announcement said the machine will be installed in a plant at Elath, Israel, on the Gulf of Aqaba, with ground-breaking ceremonies scheduled for early in March. The plant, expected to be operational early in 1962, will have a capacity of 250,000 gallons a day.

Israel and Fairbanks Whitney, whose major industrial component is Fairbanks, Morse & Co., worked together on the project for 13 months, the statement said.

The new process was invented by Dr. Alexander Zarchin, Israeli scientist.

Details of plans for worldwide marketing of the desalting process will be announced in March.

Keeps Ralph Bartlesmeyer As Road Chief

like it" in commenting on efforts of Bettag to obtain a position as tuberculosis control officer. The Welfare Department has set up the civil service requirements for the job.

Kerner said he was meeting with Miss Maude Meyers, newly appointed chairman of the State Personnel Department, to see what can be done about it.

Kerner added that tuberculosis is not a major physical disease in Illinois anymore and there was no justification for spending $20,000 a year to hire a control officer.

Kerner said he and Powell discussed a possible cigarette tax boost, which Powell favors.

The governor observed that while he is undecided on it, "the cost of cigarettes hasn't gone down" since the state removed a penny increase last year.

The increase was imposed by the 1959 legislature to pay Korean bonuses and then was raised to when the revenue reached $10.5 million. That was the amount originally estimated for the bonuses.

However, it has proved to be insufficient and Illinois Veterans Commission officials said an additional $1 million will be necessary to complete payments.

Kerner said he hasn't had a chance to go over former Gov. William G. Stratton's 1961 state highway program but pointed out he has criticized the Republican state administration for "not following priorities" in the past.

He also said he wants to take a look at a $13 million highway bid let scheduled for Jan. 27.

Kerner said the name of James Karber of Ridgeview has been submitted to him for appointment to the Illinois Commerce Commission, but no decision has been made.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, Senate minority leader, described the address as "at once gracious and cooperative in tone and is indeed an excellent and realistic summary of the achievements of the Administration."

"His appraisal of the economy, with emphasis on growth, industrial peace and on living within our means, make it a heartening message. It is also a candid document because it sets forth not only the achievements but the existing problems in the field of agriculture and foreign relations."

"All in all," Dirksen concluded, "it is an impressive state paper."

Expect Demand For Oil To Show 1.8% Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Bureau of Mines estimates crude oil production in this country will be up 2.7 per cent this year and domestic demand for all oils will show an increase of 1.8 per cent.

Of the total U.S. demand, domestic production will supply 81.9 per cent compared with 81.4 per cent in 1960, the bureau predicts.

To Alvin C. Hope, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, the outlook offers no promise of any substantial increase in drilling activity in this country.

In his estimate, 1961 "promises only moderate growth in demands and production."

Other forecasts by the bureau of mines:

Required new supplies for all oils this year will be 9,983,000 barrels a day, including imports.

Exports will drop 4.4 per cent, holding down the rate of increase in demand for domestic production.

A drop of 1.8 per cent in demand for residual fuel oil under the 1960 level. The bureau said new natural gas pipelines to the west coast and import restrictions are expected to curtail use of residual by that percentage.

A 9 per cent increase in demand for kerosene, reflecting increased use by commercial jet planes.

Designer Tells Of Mrs. Kennedy's Spring Wardrobe

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy's designer permitted a brief peek Thursday at the new First Lady's wardrobe, and disclosed that the president-elect had quite a bit to say about it.

"I feel he likes them very much," designer Oleg Cassini told 200 fashion editors of the nation's newspapers, here for the spring press week showings.

Cassini made public only three items from the wardrobe—a gown and a daytime coat and dress ensemble.

President-elect John F. Kennedy takes office a week from Friday. Mrs. Kennedy is keeping secret details of other dresses until the inauguration.

Cassini made it clear that the gown is not THE gown which she will wear to the inauguration balls that night, and that the ensemble can be worn anytime and may not necessarily be seen during the festivities.

He called the gown "a mere covering of white pristine satin, pure in line, pure in color and pure in detail."

It will, he said, "have one fluid line from shoulder to floor, unbroken except for a beguiling bow at the waistline."

It is sleeveless, with a simple, slightly rounded neck. The skirt is slim and the waist is fitted, with a slightly easy blousing.

"It has a completely natural look," said Cassini, "with the dignity and fineness that can only be achieved by simplicity of design."

The daytime ensemble is a one-piece soft wool dress in fawn, a subdued beige. The silhouette is gently shaped to the figure with a natural shoulder and simple rounded neckline. Matching silk sash at the waistline and cuffs is the only accent.

The dress is to be worn with a matching coat of soft-finish wool. The coat is of a semi-fitted shape with a restrained flared hemline. Again, it has the natural shoulder and simple rounded neckline.

Norway's Princess Astrid, Divorced Commoner Marry

ASKER, Norway (AP) — In the Christmas card setting of Asker Valley, Princess Astrid Thursday wed the divorced commoner for whom she is renouncing her position as First Lady of Norway.

Inside the little, red-brick Lutheran church, Europe's princes and princesses watched Astrid, 28, become the bride of Johan Martin Ferner, 33, director of a fashionable men's clothing store.

Outside in the snow, 1,000 Norwegians cheered as the radiant princess—a blonde vision in white ermine coat and white tulle gown—emerged with the bridegroom.

Heavy snow fell in the morning, and the raw cold of Norway's winter set in, or the crowds outside might have been 20 times larger, police said.

YOUNG WIFE STABBED TO DEATH
CHICAGO (AP) — A young wife was stabbed to death Thursday during a quarrel with her estranged husband.

The victim, Mrs. Nancy Loucks, 23, a waitress, was killed after she returned to her apartment with an acquaintance, Edward Skozigiel, 23. Her husband, 22, was held without charge pending an inquest Friday.

Skozigiel was released after questioning.

Nikita Lambastes Party Chief For Lying About Corn

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev has bawled out the Communist party chief in the great grain-producing Ukraine for lying about corn production, warning, "You will pay for this lack of leadership."

The premier then suggested that farmers be taught to operate tractors and combines instead of importing professionals from thousands of miles away for a harvest lasting only 15 days. This suggestion could have a tremendous effect in boosting Soviet agriculture production.

These additional details of Wednesday's stormy session of the Central Committee of the Communist party were published Thursday.

The committee, which already has ordered a drastic overhaul of the Agricultural Ministry, continued its secret session Thursday on methods of spurring farm output.

Khrushchev's outburst came after Nikolai Podgorny, first secretary of the Ukrainian Communist party, reported that despite bad weather the Ukraine had produced 183.75 million centners of corn. A centner is about 35 pounds.

"I am sure, comrade Podgorny," Khrushchev declared, "that the figures you give are only half the harvest and the other half was stolen in the field."

"You are right, Nikita Sergeevich," replied Podgorny, who himself is a member of the party's ranking body, the Presidium.

"Then why do you try to conceal it?" Khrushchev demanded.

Podgorny said local leaders were not doing their job. He also claimed there was a lack of equipment and fertilizers.

Podgorny went on to admit many other agricultural sins and claimed that the Central Committee of the Ukraine was taking steps to correct them.

But Khrushchev charged that the corn figure had been deliberately falsified and warned: "Do not deceive yourself. Do not mislead collective farmers and workers of the state farms, because you will pay for this lack of leadership."

Powell Opposes Any Increase In State Sales Tax

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — House Speaker Paul Powell said Thursday he is "utterly opposed" to increasing the state sales tax.

The Democratic legislative leader said one revenue measure he favors is to boost the cigarette tax a penny a package.

Powell said he was not ruling out completely the possibility of a sales tax hike but declared: "I think we should first try to broaden the sales tax and increase the corporation tax."

The latter two measures were advocated by Gov. Otto Kerner in his inaugural message Monday. Kerner told a news conference Tuesday he was not discounting the possibility of a sales tax increase at this session of the legislature.

Powell, who conferred with Kerner Thursday, said he and the governor were in general agreement on a legislative program. He said he mentioned the cigarette tax increase proposal but Kerner made no comment.

Powell told newsmen he will ignore any Republican attempts to discipline GOP legislators who figured in his speaker's victory.

He said GOP representatives who refused to back Rep. William Pollock of Chicago for speaker will get committee assignments on the basis of their seniority.

"I don't intend to see any member persecuted," said Powell, who was re-elected by 38 Democrats and a lone Republican, Rep. Walter McAvoy of Chicago.

GOP leaders have called a caucus Tuesday to discuss possible retaliatory measures against McAvoy and three other Chicago Republican house members — Peter Miller, Michael Zimkin and August Ruf.

Teamsters Union Ends Trusteeship Over 47 Locals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Teamsters Union said Thursday it is ending its trusteeship over 47 of its locals, including Local 179 of Joliet, Ill., and Local 725 in Chicago.

Under a trusteeship, a local is run by international union headquarters in Washington.

A Teamster official told a reporter that James R. Hoffa, president of the union, has notified all but three of its 59 trusteeship locals to set up elections of local officers.

A decision about the remaining three locals 447 in St. Louis, 330 in Miami and 55 in Asheville, N.C., is expected to be made in a week or so.

The locals currently being released are scheduled to nominate officers in February. Target date for turning the locals back to local control is March 1.

Teamster locals are placed in trusteeship for various reasons. Sometimes there are financial difficulties or factional fights.

Beginning in July 1958, the court-appointed Teamster monitors banned the release of any more Teamster locals from trusteeship.

Then last summer the court allowed the Teamsters' union headquarters to release eight locals and about two months ago gave permission to release the remaining 50.

Also among the 47 locals now being released are:

Local 473 of St. Louis, 215 of Springfield, Mo., and 833 of Jefferson City, Mo.

Battle Shapes Up Laotian Pilots Raid Red Forces In Obsolete U.S. Training Planes

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Laotian pilots raided rebel lines Thursday for the second day in a row, flying four hastily armed obsolete training planes supplied by the United States. The biggest battle of Laos' six-year-old civil war was believed shopping up.

While British and French diplomats in Vientiane expressed fear of Communist retaliation, a top U.S. official defended the air strikes as a defense measure against a big pro-Communist rebel buildup to the north.

When the battle will come no one here knows. But Western military experts said quick action is necessary to offset continuing Soviet air drops to rebels in north-central Laos.

The targets of the propeller-driven planes, delivered by the United States only Tuesday, were secret. And a tight security screen was thrown around the capital's field from which they flew.

"The planes were making repeated strikes. Each was armed with two machine guns and with racks for two 100-pound bombs said two rockets."

It was believed one target at most certainly was the Plain des Jarres. Western military experts estimate leftist Capt. Kone Le and his pro-Communist Pathet Lao guerrilla allies are massing about 6,000 men on the plain.

The plain, with its four airstrips, has a cross-country road leading from Communist North Viet Nam westward to Luang Prabang, the royal capital 50 miles north of Vientiane.

Premier Boun Oum's forces are assembling by light planes and helicopters at Tha Thom and Pak-sane, 40 and 80 miles, respectively, south of the plain.

Western military sources said the government can put 4,000 to 6,000 regulars into the battle, plus possibly 3,000 militia and volunteers. This would mean the biggest engagement of the civil war, which up to now has been largely one of skirmishes and guerrilla strikes.

After the first air strike was announced, a British diplomat said: "Now that the first bomb has been dropped, no town or village in Laos will be safe from air attack."

A U.S. official, told of the remark, said the Soviet Union was delivering arms for attacks on the legal government of Laos and added: "It is only natural the government should fight back. Is that offensive or defensive?"

Rusk Indicates No Sharp Changes In Foreign Policies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dean Rusk, soon to become the Kennedy administration's secretary of state, indicated Thursday there will be no sharp departures from Eisenhower administration foreign policies, at least for the present.

Rusk, 51, submitted to questioning by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, although he won't be nominated formally until after John F. Kennedy is inaugurated as president Jan. 20.

Rusk was before the committee for more than two hours and afterward Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., said it won't be necessary to call him back.

Fulbright—who at one stage was in the running for the secretary of state post—said his committee will study Rusk's views on a number of international issues—Red China, Cuba, disarmament, summary, U. S. relations with its allies, the fate of U. S. flares held in Soviet prisons, to list a few.

In general, Rusk committed himself to a very little specific, and the committee didn't press him.

This is the essence of what Rusk said on the major questions:

1. Red China—"I see no prospect at the present time that normal relations can be considered or established with Red China." However, he noted "The presence in mainland China of a large and powerful force is one of the facts... we cannot ignore."
  2. Cuba—"Acknowledged being very much disturbed by events there, but declined to say much more on this situation. He said 'we would want to intensify our effort' to get the truth to the people of Latin America through the U. S. Information Agency. And he called for a strong drive to consolidate the inter-American community."
  3. Summary—"It would be 'quite wrong to be dogmatic' in opposition to summit meetings and state visits. He did not rule out the possibility that Kennedy might attend a summit conference provided there was any hope such talks would be fruitful."
  4. Disarmament—"The Kennedy administration is giving intensive study to the question of disarmament negotiations and hopes to be able to move on this matter promptly."
  5. Imprisoned flares—"We will do our best" to win freedom for two U. S. Air Force officers held by the Soviet Union since their scout bomber was downed north of the U. S. S. R. last year.
  6. Relations with allies—"It is 'a matter of large importance' to try to persuade friendly nations, especially those in Europe, to shoulder a bigger share of the load of military and economic aid to free world countries in need of such help."
- The rapid-talking Rusk, sometime high State Department official in the Truman administration, said he hoped for a bipartisan foreign policy—something the Eisenhower administration sought, too.

Stevenson Hopes U.S., Soviet Can Do Things Jointly

CHICAGO (AP) — Adlai Stevenson, about to take over as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, expressed hope Thursday that during his term in the world council the United States and the Soviets could "do things jointly which we have not been able to do in the past."

He also remarked, in conversations with newsmen, that he had no definite solution to the tense U.S.-Cuba situation but hoped Cuba would "see the light so that once more we can enjoy happy relations."

"The important thing in the Cuban picture," he said, "is the solidarity of this hemisphere."

The remarks were made at a gathering of Stevenson's friends to wish him well in his coming assignment.

Stevenson shook hands with about 1,000 well-wishers. He was a guest of honor at a reception sponsored by the Chicago Council of Foreign Relations and the Illinois chapter of the American Association for the United Nations.

MICE ROUT WOMEN IN DEPARTMENT STORE

Three Discards Best Rookie Bets With Cincinnati

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Three discards—pitcher Ray Riddlemeier, who couldn't make it with Milwaukee; pitcher Howard Nunn, who flopped with St. Louis; and second baseman Jimmy Baumer, who once received a $50,000 bonus from the Chicago White Sox, are the best rookie bets on the Cincinnati Reds.

Riddlemeier, 27, enjoyed a fine season with Seattle of the Pacific Coast League last year, winning 16 while losing 13. The right-hander had a 2.71 earned run average.

Nunn, also a right-hander, was the ace of the Jersey City staff last year, winning 12 of 18 decisions and posting a gleaming 1.99 ERA.

Baumer, who got his fat bonus in 1949, finally came into his own last year with a .293 batting average at Salt Lake City.

Others with a good chance to make the grade are catcher Hal Bevan, who batted .308 in 131 games at Seattle, and third baseman Cliff Cook, a .310 hitter at Nashville, with 12 home runs and 63 RBI.

The Reds' freshman list includes five first-year men. The most promising appears to be Tommy Harper, a fleet-footed second baseman with a good batting eye. The 18-year-old hit only .254 at Topeka but stole 26 bases in 38 attempts and coaxed 78 bases on balls in 79 games.

COP Praises, Demos Dismiss Ike's Review

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Some people must like to pay taxes.

T. E. McDowell, assistant tax collector for Duval County, said several persons have paid their tax bills twice. After the office mailed receipts for the first payment, the taxpayers made out new checks and sent them back with the receipts.

The tax collector's office wishes it wouldn't happen. It makes extra work checking the previous payment and sending the money and receipts back.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many Republicans cheered it. Many Democrats dismissed it. President Eisenhower's final State of the Union message drew that predictable reaction Thursday.

A typical Democratic description came from Rep. Leslie C. Arends, R-Calif.

"A valedictory comparable to George Washington's Farewell Address," said Arends.

A typical Democratic description came from Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif.

"About what one would expect from Mr. Eisenhower," said Moss.

Arends, assistant House Republican leader, amplified his description: "It is an inspiring message—one of encouragement and one of challenge."

Moss elaborated on his reaction: "It reflects much of the attitude which dominated his administration. It expresses neither the urgency of the moment nor a grasp of the significance of the challenges confronting the entire free world."

Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, the Republican House leader, said Eisenhower's message demonstrates "how well he has kept faith with the American people and left to his successor an America far stronger than it was eight years ago."

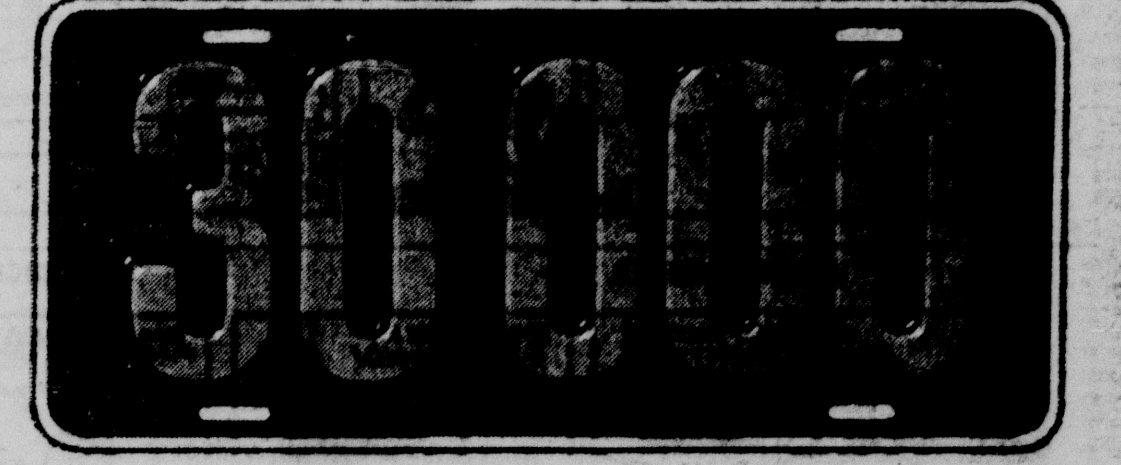

But Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said, "No one facing the world situation as it exists today can point with pride to our accomplishments."

The Senate was in recess and did not hear the message, which was read to the House by a clerk. Nevertheless, reaction from the Senate came swiftly.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., said the message should remove "distorted characterizations of the United States" which he said may have resulted from "the inevitable harshness of a political campaign."

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he agreed with Eisenhower that international problems are still with us.

"In fact," Fulbright said, "they are more critical now than at any time since World War II."

Gunman Pistol-Whips Three In Bank, Flees With $9,000

GREAT LAKES, Ill. (AP) — A lone gunman posing as a plumber pistol-whipped three persons in a bank at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center and fled with an estimated $9,000 Thursday.

An alarm was sounded 10 minutes after the holdup, closing all gates on the military base, but the gunman apparently escaped.

The two employees at the banking facility, a branch of the Citizens National Bank of Waukegan, said the gunman walked up to the gate occupied by manager Donald Noren, 22, and said: "I'm here to fix your leaky pipes."

Then he drew a snub-nose .38 caliber revolver from a pocket of his yellow rubberized jacket, leaped over a small gate and told Noren and a teller, Miss Doris Phelps, 45, to lie on the floor.

The gunman took money from the cash drawers and an open vault but missed about $23,000 in currency in various drawers and passed up another $18,000 in coins, apparently because of their weight.

After emerging from the vault with the money in a zipper bag, the gunman clubbed Noren and Miss Phelps unconscious with his gun.

On his way out, he encountered L. L. Yilek, a boatwain's mate first class, and felled Yilek with a blow on the head.

The victims, who suffered head lacerations and possible skull fractures, recovered in about 10 minutes and sounded the alarm that caused the guards to close gates. Lake County authorities also posted roadblocks, but to no avail.

The bank branch is in the basement of a two-story building that also houses a recreation center and is one-half block from a gate manned by unarmed sentries.

Noren said that he had reported about three weeks ago that pipes were leaking in the bank.

The gunman was described as a dark-complexioned white man about 6 feet tall and wearing a blue-checked shirt under his jacket and blue trousers.

About 20,000 Navy men are stationed at the base whose chief activity is the training of recruits.

TIME FOR VIOLENCE
By Noel M. Loomis

XXIX
It was 14 miles to the L.J. without going around by the Quarter Circle JB, and he decided to take the short cut. He was jogging along, only an hour from the L.J. when he saw dust on the prairie to his left front, and stopped long enough to identify Stella Harding's chestnut gelding, traveling in the general direction of Xenophon Jones' camp of the night before.

He put the black into a gallop as soon as he got a little distance away from his stopping point, and now he began to use his spurs. The black was a big horse, fast and with plenty of bottom, and he had no doubt it could outrun the chestnut by considerable over a stretch.

Bart cut her off with the black in 10 minutes of hard riding. He rode up alongside and grabbed the chestnut's cheek strap and brought it down to a halt.

Stella was furious. "What do you think you're doing? Who gave you a right to stop me?" "I took the right," he said. "Where you going?" "For a ride." "Ride back to the ranch with me." "I don't want to ride with you." She held a six-shooter in her hand. He smiled. "It's not in position to shoot," he told her, in a smooth motion seized the barrel. He turned the cylinder and pushed out the cartridges, then gave it back to her. "Remember to load it the next time you go somewhere, in case you want to shoot a snake."

She struck at him with the empty six-shooter. He dodged, and the gun hit the cantle, and the front sight slashed a furrow in the leather covering.

The black jumped forward, but Bart turned it and circled in behind her. "Stella," he said, "I hope you get control of your temper before we reach the L.J."

She rode for a while in sullen silence.

"Do you expect a bunch of farmers to beat men like Xenophon Jones and Stud Murphy and Piggie Benson?" She looked at him with new fire in her eyes. "Those men are killers!"

He smiled wryly. She thought it was as simple as a stand-up and shoot-down fight. "They have yellow in them too." "Not if they know what they're going up against." "And you were going to tell them tonight," he observed. She swung back, again furious. "You tricked me!"

Bart, however, was counting up the deadly results of the information she had intended to give them. If they should know definitely that the ranchers were depending on Bart Wagner, their course would be simple: to converge their fire on Bart and take him out of the fight immediately. In such a case, Bart would never know the outcome, for he would be dead beyond any question.

They rode in silence for a hundred yards. "What are you going to tell them at the ranch?" she asked. "What would you have told them?" Bart replied. "That I went for a ride," she said. "I'll tell them you were lost and I found you." "They will know better." He shrugged. "They probably know you're not out riding aimlessly, too. Hector knew where you were the other night."

Her face contorted. He met Tom Harding after Stella disappeared in the house. "Have a drink, Bart?" "I'm a little dry," Bart admitted.

They had the drink inside. "No liquor allowed on the place as far as the hands are concerned," said Harding. "I keep it here and I use it, like all the other ranchers in the Panhandle, but there's no drinking and no gambling among the help. Saves a lot of trouble."

Bart leaned back against the barn, watching the house, his hands locked behind his head. "You better keep an eye on Stella. It won't be too good for her to go out today, with that gang coming down from Tascosa. They will all be liquored up and wild—and they might figure she knows something and try to get it out of her." "You're right," said Harding. "I'll speak to Hector."

Bart said easily, "She might represent Hector because he's your foreman. You better pick somebody else she won't notice."

Harding sighed. "She's a high-spirited girl. I don't know how I'll ever make her satisfied out here on the ranch."

Bart paused. "It will work out," he said. "She was always a little willful."

"Things like that are hard to get over," said Bart. "I thought it would settle her down to live on the ranch, but I guess it hasn't helped."

Mental Health Bills Concern Of Both Parties

Rev. Clarence Bigler, president of the Morgan County Association for Mental Health and member of the Board of Directors of the Illinois Association for Mental Health, attended the January meeting of the Board of Directors of the Illinois Association at the Abraham Lincoln Hotel in Springfield on Tuesday of this week.

Chief items of business for the Board were addresses by Lt. Governor Samuel H. Shapiro and by Francis P. Gerty, Director of Department of Public Welfare, for the state of Illinois, and approval of a proposed "Blue Print" for improvements in the care for the mentally ill in the state. Mr. Shapiro, a member of the Board, stated that mental health was not a political issue, and paid tribute to Mrs. Dawson, a Republican member of the general assembly and also a member of the Board, with whom he had worked for mental health bills, while a member of the assembly. He said, "We don't care what the party is, as long as they will work for our bills. We will work together."

Dr. Gerty stated that the reforms which were necessary could not be accomplished in two years, or perhaps four, but that he was confident that progress would be made, and that ultimately they would be accomplished. He warned that if anything were to be done, it must be done by the Mental Health Association and its members working with the Department of Public Welfare, and that the Association must be certain that it was not working in opposition to the Department. He assured the Association of complete cooperation, and that it would be to the extent that it was willing to work for its avowed purpose of improving mental health in Illinois.

The 14 point "Blue Print" adopted by the Board included the reorganization of the Department of Public Welfare to create a new department of Mental Health, improved procedures and financing, relief of overcrowding, and understaffing, and other suggestions for improved care of the mentally ill. Many of the points had been approved or originated from Dr. Gerty prior to their presentation to the Board.

State Patient On Leave Kills Self

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—A Springfield mother, whose son secretly bought a gun Monday when she took him to town, was told Thursday that he had been found dead—apparently of a self-inflicted bullet wound from the gun he purchased.

Donald James Douglas, 28, of 1105 N. 14th St., was found dead at 9:45 a.m. Thursday in Oak Ridge cemetery, an apparent suicide victim. He was to have returned Sunday to Jacksonville State Hospital following a two-week pass.

Records of a local sporting goods store showed he had purchased the weapon that day. Mrs. Douglas said he would not show her what was in the package, but it was the gun and a box of shells, Telford said.

Telford said the body was found by William Tuitt, 3174 Carman Ave., and Everett Seymour, 2143 Renfro St., employees of the Wilbert Burial Vault Co., 1330 Wabash Ave.

Bakery Drivers May Strike Here Tuesday

Whether or not driver-salesmen for Ideal, Holsum and Purity Baking companies will strike Tuesday morning is still undecided. The impending strike threat may be settled after negotiations between company and union representatives at a special meeting Monday evening at the Dunlap hotel.

Thomas H. Edwards, president and business representative of the Teamsters Union, Local 916, will handle negotiations on behalf of the driver-salesmen. Key man in the three companies affected is Robert Conover, owner of Ideal Baking Company of Jacksonville. The Ideal Baking company has offices and production facilities in Jacksonville while the other two produce bakery products in Springfield and Decatur and use Jacksonville as a distribution point.
